

HORTOBÁGY NATIONAL PARK

The Hortobágy National Park, established in 1973 is the country's largest protected area of 82 thousand hectares, holding a wide range of grassland and wetland habitats.

The Hortobágy National Park has been inscribed on the World Heritage List by UNESCO on 1 December 1999 in the category of cultural landscapes and became a Starry Sky Park in 2011.

Thanks to the continuous development of the touristic facilities and programs the Hortobágy National Park offers many opportunities to learn more about the natural values of Hortobágy, the pastoral traditions and the typical handicrafts of the region.

The Hortobágy Wild Animal Park based on the natural conditions of the Hortobágy National Park. This is a perfect place for the demonstration of the ancient wildlife of the Hungarian Puszta. The Wild Animal Park presents some of the animals lived here before the appearance of man, but driven to extinction by the spread of civilization, eg. wolves, Przewalski's Horses, vultures, pelicans. Visitors can also see other wild animals still living in the protected areas such as wildcats, foxes, roedeers, white-tailed eagles, great white egrets, cranes, white storks.

The aim of the wild animal park is to present these species in an environment that reflects the former face of Hortobágy.

In the exhibition the world of amphibians and reptiles is shown in terrariums, the ancient wildlife of the puszta is presented with the help of full-sized skeletons and illustrated information boards, and the typical habitats are shown by dioramas.

A souvenir shop and a buffet are also available in the Wild Animal Park.

The design of the outdoor enclosures offers excellent opportunities for photographers.

The program takes min. 1,5 hours.

The large grazing animals can be observed closely during an extra safari program. Visitors can book a trip with a land rover with expert guidance to the wild horses and auroxes. The program which has an extra fee takes 25 minutes, and max. 7 visitors can join in one turn. The extra safari program depends on the weather conditions.

The fishponds of Hortobágy make up one of the largest fishpond systems in Central-Europe. Besides their economic importance fishponds have a very diverse and rich flora and fauna. The Hortobágy Great-Fishponds (Hortobágy-halastó) which is the central fishpond system covers an area of 2000 hectares. The fishponds have been protected since the establishment of the Hortobágy National Park. The nesting and migrating birds of Hortobágy Great-Fishponds are particularly valuable. In the last more than 40 years nearly 300 bird species have been observed here which makes the area one of the most well-known bird habitats in Central Europe.

The narrow gauge railway makes it possible to reach even the furthest fishponds easily and to admire the landscape and the rich avifauna of the fishponds along the way.

This narrow gauge railway is unique as it is the only narrow gauge railway in Hungary that runs among fishponds instead of forests.

Nature trails in the Hortobágy National Park for ecotourists

For the conservation of the nature values and for the safety of the visitors in the national park have been nature trails and demonstration areas established. These areas demonstrate the specific habitats of the Hortobágy, which can be discovered by visitors on their own. The demonstration areas and the nature trails can be visited only with a valid entrance card of the national park.

Nature trails for public admission:

Hortobágy Great Fishponds Nature trail (Hortobágy-Halastó Demonstration area)

(starting point: GPS: 47.605342, 21.069350)

Along the nature trail visitors can have an overview of the rich flora and fauna of fishponds and marshes. This area is a Ramsar site maintaining breeding and migrating waterfowl populations of outstanding importance, so it is considered as one of the most important water bird habitats in Europe. Visitors can get an insight into the life of nesting and migrating waterfowl of the Carpathian-basin, including some endangered species. Fishfarming activities and methods of habitat management can also be seen.

The nature trail can be visited on foot, by bicycle or with the narrow gauge railway.

Entrance: only with the valid entrance card of Hortobágy National Park (permit)

Location:

- by car: along the main road no. 33 at the milestone 67 turn to Hortobágy - Halastó and drive until the Halászbárka Information Centre

Egyek-Pusztakócs Marshes Nature trail/ Góré

Nature trail and Fekete-rét Nature trail (starting point: GPS: 47.548036, 20.928650)

The marshland of Egyek-Pusztakócs used to cover about 10000 ha, near Ohat-Egyek-Tiszafüred. Due to Tisza river regulations of the 19th century the natural water supply of the marshland was cut off and the flora and fauna of the marshland were forced back into smaller and smaller areas. Thanks to the rehabilitation works of the national park water-movements of the once unregulated river Tisza can be simulated. Birds quickly reoccupied the territory which has become a real waterfowl paradise.

One station of the nature trail is Góré Tanya (Góré Farm) where visitors can read about the history of kurgans (burial mounds) and can see the bird rehabilitation centre.

Passing by Góré Tanya and walking along a channel dam bordered by willow trees, visitors can reach Fekete-rét (Black meadow) nature trail, where the diverse flora and fauna of the marsh can be observed from a boardwalk.

The Meggyes Csárda Inn Museum also situated along the nature trail is a pearl of cultural history.

The nature trail can be visited on foot or by bicycle. -

Entrance: only with the valid entrance card of Hortobágy National Park (permit)

Location: along the main road no. 33 at the junction to Egyek or from Kócsújfalu

Szálkahalom Nature trail

(starting point: GPS: 47.575236, 21.243314)

Szálkahalom nature trail shows the typical surface forms and important plant communities of the Hortobágy steppes. The starting point is the kurgan (burial mound) so called Szálka-halom which was erected by nomadic people.

Walking along the trail visitors can find all the plant communities typical for the alkaline grasslands of the Hortobágy.

The nature trail can be visited on foot.

Entrance: only with the valid entrance card of Hortobágy National Park (permit)

Location: along the main road no.33 at the 79 milestone

Other areas in the Hortobágy National Park accessible with a valid entrance card:

By visiting the fishponds maintained by the Hortobágy Fishfarming Plc (Hortobágyi Halgazdaság Zrt.) visitors can have an insight into their rich flora and fauna. Nature shows a different, but always unique and spectacular face in every season. By walking along the fishponds visitors can also see the everyday life of the fishermen, which is sometimes hard but always interesting.

The following fishponds can be visited:

Fényes-fishpond system, Csécs-fishpond system, Gyökérkút-fishpond system (Gyökérkút-fishponds, Derzs-fishponds, Ohat-fishponds), Ivadékevelő-fishpond system (Akadémia-fishponds), Kungyörgy-fishpond system, Malomháza-fishpond system, Elep-fishpond system, Folyás-fishpond system (Bivalyhalom-fishponds, Tinólapos-fishponds, Nagyszög)

Nine-arch Bridge (Kilenclyukú híd)

(GPS: 47.581489, 21.148433)

The bridge over the river Hortobágy has become the symbol of the Puszta. Its full length is 167,3 meters and supported by nine arches.

Over the centuries the route here was always an important trading and cattle-driving route connecting Debrecen and Pest-Buda. So it was important to have a safe crossing over this part of the river as early as the early Middle Ages. The old wooden bridge was constantly damaged by harsh weather and floods and the repairs cost a fortune for the council of Debrecen, therefore in 1827 they decided to build a permanent stone bridge. The Nine-Arch Bridge based on the plans of Ferenc Povolny was finished by 1833.

The Nine-Arch Bridge is the longest stone bridge in Hungary.

The stud of Hortobágy was established more than 300 years ago. Due to its rich and unique horse breeding traditions it has a particular place among the national and historical studs of Europe.

Its reputation has been established by the equestrian art of the horsemen of the Hortobágy and the Nonius breed. It is an internationally recognized horse breeding-, programme- and tourist centre in our days.

The most popular among the organized programs is the horse carriage tour, introducing natural treasures, herdsman's traditions, horsemen and stud, and Hungarian domestic animals typical to the area in their habitat.

The black pottery workshop of Nádudvar and the stock stables of the stud can also be visited.

Opening hours:

The Fecskeház Nature School and Youth Hostel awaits groups throughout the year. Interesting programs, tours by bicycle, by train or on foot are organized for the guests. The aim of the nature school program besides the strengthening of fellowship among the children is to make them discover the region so rich in natural values and to make them appreciate the traditional lifestyle.

The Fecskeház with its programs-on-the-spot offers is excellent even for longer stays. 34 people can be accommodated at once.

open: all year round

From November to April the Nature School is not available for private guests, only for groups.
